Review Summary

Designed to foster English-Spanish bilingualism in youngsters of all ages, the home-video series Kids Love Spanish features a six-year-old boy named Brock, who appears onscreen with over 75 of his friends to learn Spanish words and phrases from a friendly onscreen instructor, Julie (Brock's offscreen mother and the series producer, Julie Brock Campbell). The series uses catchy music, bright onscreen colors, repetition, and practical examples of word usage to instill Spanish as a secondary language in at-home participants. It includes seven volumes to accommodate various levels of proficiency. ~ Nathan Southern, All Movie Guide
